F. B. Van Duzee Exonerated From Blame in Auto Fatality

A summary of the evidence of the inquest on the death of Joe Wallek, 35 years, killed at 10.45 Monday night at the east end of Victoria street, Blairmore, disclosed no negligence on the part of Van Duzee, driver of the car which caused Wallek's death.

Van Duzee's evidence was that he slowed down to 15 miles per hour as he passed Crows Nest Motors at the west end of the street, and the first he saw of Wallek was when he loomed up three feet in front of the car immediately west of the bridge across Lyon Creek. Wallek was proceeding towards the south side. His cap was pulled over his eyes and he was walking with his head lowered. Wallek was lying 15 feet from where the car was stopped. The evidence was corroborated by J. Atkinson jr., and V. Cologrosso, who, with their wives, were in the car. Sergeant Cawsey gave evidence on road measurements and other details.

The verdict was accidental death, and Van Duzee was exonerated from blame. The doctor's evidence was to the effect that death was caused by a blow on the side of the head. There were other injuries. The coroner was F. J. Turner of Bellevue; jurymen—W. S. Chappell, foreman; G. Sangster, H. Pinkney, Fred Crayford, J. Kubie, Barney Houze.

Wallek was employed as a timber packer at West Canadian Collieries, and it is reported leaves a wife and five children in Czechoslovakia.

Coleman Social Credit Group holds regular meetings which interest quite a number of people who gather in the United church club room. On Monday evening a regular meeting was held, and it was decided to try and develop organization in Coleman, presumably in preparation for the next provincial election. It is anticipated that many constituencies will nominate Social Credit candidates.

From the Claresholm Press: Many of our readers have undoubtedly noticed the advertisement in the Country Gentleman which reads, "A nice powderpuff and initialled compact in the back seat of the car will delight your wife." It didn't work so well with a Claresholm husband on Wednesday night when his wife found a well used powderpuff in the back seat of the car and the initials on the compact were those of another married woman. At the time of going to press today it looks as though Judge Amundsen will have to try the case.

W. G. Moffat, who is leaving Claresholm to take the position of music instructor in the Crow's Nest Pass schools, was the recipient of a number of presentations and tokens of esteem by the people of Claresholm before his departure. The choir of the United church presented him with an electric clock as a token of appreciation of his long service as organist and choir leader, accompanied with expressions of regret for the termination of their pleasant relationship. His former pupils organized a corn roast in his honor, and in connection with that occasion, presented him with a beautiful reading lamp.—Nanton News.

Following the installation of officers, the assembly adjourned to the dining room of the Grand Union hotel for a banquet.

Short talks were well received from several of the Blairmore officers and the local members, followed by a most inspiring address from the organizer on the aims, ideals and objects of the order.

Rushton, treasurer; W. Harrison, inner guard; J. J. Hadley, tyler; Robt. Bell, esquire; H. Sherrat, chaplain; H. W. Clark, R. F. Barnes, G. R. Powell, trustees.

A meeting will be held on Friday at 7.30 p. m. in the parish hall to organize a table tennis club.

Reduced rates on the C. P. R. will be in force for the Crow's Nest Pass musical festival to be held Oct. 25-26-27. For a party of 15 or more from Cranbrook the rate is $4.95 each, return limit seven days. From Lethbridge for 15 or more the return rate is $3.72, return limit seven days.

Despite discouragement, despite seeming handicaps and unfair things happening, there is always the need for the individual to keep alive his determination to be master of his fate, and not to be swept along on the current of some popular appeal which on the surface may hold glittering promise of relief. Man always has had to work for a living and on the basis that you receive nothing without you work for it, it is likely that this age-old rule will keep on working.
